

Wanted: the best Queensland Women in Technology

You: to shine a light on Women in Technology

2015 awards now open

MEDIA RELEASE 2 June 2015

Queensland women are being encouraged to enter the prestigious Women in Technology (WiT) annual awards with nominations open from now until 15 July 2015.

WiT president Fiona Hayes said this year marks an important milestone for the awards, celebrating their 18th year.

“The WiT awards have come of age. We continue to be amazed by the quality, professionalism and experience of our nominees.

“The WiT awards are about celebrating women - women who are experts in their fields and succeeding in male dominated technology and life science positions.

“In 2014 WiT received over 300 nominations for nine awards and this year we are keen to see even more” Fiona said.

This year WiT introduces a brand new online nomination process making it easier than ever to nominate. Go to www.witawards.org.au

Winners will be announced at the Gala Awards dinner on Friday 28 August 2015 at the Royal International Convention Centre.

WiT is proud to be supporting Hear and Say as their 2015 charity partner for the event.

What is WiT?

WiT is a leading technology industry association promoting careers in technology and life sciences to women. WiT aims to support, develop, recognise and promote achievements of women in ICT and Life Sciences via relevant events, mentoring, board readiness, step up, outreach, programs, awards and networks.

Founded in 1997 with the support of just 10 women the association now has more than 2700 members subscribers, members and affiliates.

For more information on the awards go to: <http://www.wit.org.au/WITawards>

To join WiT go to www.wit.org.au

WiT Award categories:

Employer of Choice Award

For the employer demonstrating commitment to providing an outstanding working environment for women

Professional Award

For women with more than 7 years but less than 15 years industry experience.

Infotech Outstanding Achievement Award

For women making a significant contribution to the growth and development of Queensland's ICT industry who serve as role models for others to aspire to. (15 years or more experience).

Infotech Research Award

For women making a recognised contribution to the field of ICT research and development.

Rising Star Award

For women with less than 7 years industry experience in ICT or Life Sciences.

Life Sciences Research Award

For women making a recognised contribution to the field of Life Sciences research and development.

Life Sciences Outstanding Achievement Award

For women making a significant contribution to the growth and development of Queensland's life sciences industry who serve as role models for others to aspire to (15 years or more experience).

PhD Career Start Award

For PhD students working in IT or life sciences.

Sue Wickenden Entrepreneurial Award

For outstanding women whose vision, leadership and initiative have created their own enterprise.

Media contact: Lisa Cawthorne, Women in Technology, 0430 219 091

Past winners and WiT President Fiona Hayes are available for interviews.

2015 women in technology
Awards

Winners announced at the Gala Dinner,
28th August, Royal International Convention Centre
Visit www.wit.org.au/ for more information

Proudly supporting our Charity Partner

